CHANCELLOR DISMISSES INJUNCTION AGAINST CITY OFFICIALS

An injunction petition against the city of Bay St. Louis was dismissed Monday morning in Hancock County chancery court, Bay St. Louis by Chancellor Robert R. Buntin.

A demurrer filed by the respondents, Mayor John A. Scaffie and Commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren Traub, was sustained on grounds of improper procedure by the petitioner, Powell Glass Jr.

The petitioner charged police officers, under order of the city officials, were blocking traffic unnecessarily during filming of "This Property is Condemned," and requested the court to enjoin the city from blocking public access to any street, road or pass for this purpose.

The demurrer showed the following causes for dismissal:

The petition did not show that the petitioner owned any property abutting on the involved streets or roads and did not show that he has or will suffer any peculiar or specific injury from this blocking of the streets.

Attorneys Sam Favre and Joseph Benvenuti represented the city and William Frisbie was attorney for Glass.

JURY FINDS IN FAVOR OF DEFENDANT

A Harrison County circuit court jury last Wednesday found for the defendant in the trial of a damage suit in which two brothers were involved.

Andrew A. Nelson of Bay St. Louis had sought a judgment of $65,000 in the suit brought against his brother, Edward Nelson of Pass Christian.

Andrew Nelson maintained on Sept. 10, 1964 he was employed by Edward Nelson, a painting contractor, to help in painting the residence of David W. Welch, 602 Pine St., Pass Christian.

The plaintiff asserted Edward Nelson did not exercise reasonable care in furnishing him with a safe scaffold and claimed he was permanently injured in a fall.

The defendant denied negligence, asserting his brother, Andrew, was his partner, that they had constructed the scaffold together and that it was not defective.

SYMPHONY CONCERT DATE NEXT MONDAY, OCTOBER 25

WERNER TORKANOWSKY Conductor

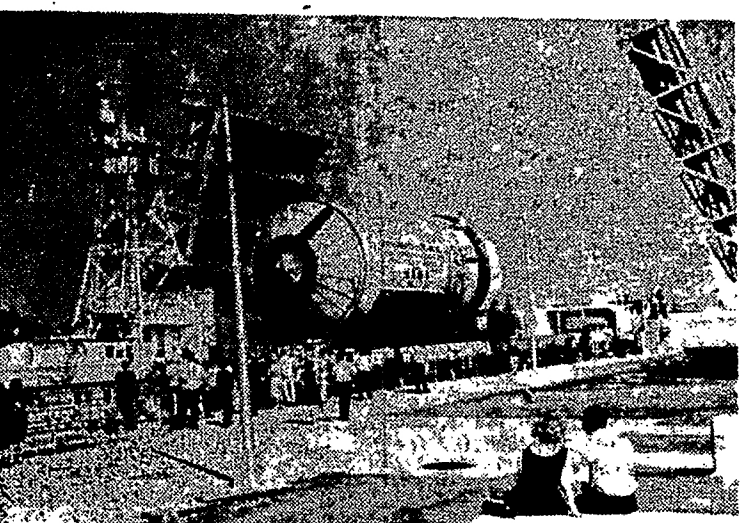

On the podium next Monday when the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra appears at Bay High gymnasium for an afternoon and an evening performance will be its dynamic young conductor Werner Torkanowsky, born in Germany and reared in Israel, came to the United States in 1948. His remarkable talent was immediately acknowledged, and he has won high acclaim as a music director not only in this country but on tours of Europe and Latin America.

The New Orleans Symphony Orchestra is composed of eighty-eight musicians, fifty of whom play stringed instruments. Several of the violins and violas in the orchestra were made long before Beethoven was born in 1770. One, for instance, was made in 1605, more than a century and a half before the birth of Beethoven! Many of the stringed instruments are originals made in Cremona, Italy, by members of the Amati, Stradivari, and Guarneri families, and some are valued at from $10,000 to $40,000 each. The podium which will be seen by local concert-goers when Werner Torkanowsky steps upon it to give the downbeat Monday always goes along with the orchestra's baggage wherever it plays, regardless of transportation space or problems.

It was a gift from the government of Nicaragua at a concert in Managua in 1956 on the orchestra's State Department-sponsored tour of Latin American countries.

The Coast area are expected to be present for the evening performance of the concert on Monday. The matinee performance is to be restricted to children through the eighth grade. Advance tickets are still available at de Montuzin Drugs, Lorraine Flower Shop, Delphi's, Waveland Drug, and Sunshine Cafe.

Asks For Federal Aid

The Hancock County Eagle was advised by telegram Wednesday that Congress has passed the hurricane Betsy Aid bill for relief of those who suffered damages during the recent hurricane.

The telegram in substance read, "Congress has passed the Hurricane Betsy aid bill for the relief of those who suffered uninsured damages during the recent hurricane in the disaster area as proclaimed by the President. Senator Eastland advised today."

"The Long-Eastland bill provides that the first $1,800 on the small business disaster loans made in the disaster area to cover damages incurred during the hurricane would be forgiven. Senator Eastland added that this relief is being given to people who suffered damages that were not covered by insurance."

MAN NABBED IN TELEVISION THEFT AT BAY MOTEL

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner arrested Walter William Graham, 28, of Michigan and Florida, and charged him with the theft of a television set from a local motel.

Graham was bound over to await action of a Hancock County grand jury by Justice of the Peace Nqlan S. Ladner after a preliminary hearing Thursday afternoon and is being held in county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Sheriff Ladner said he received a call by radio about 11 a.m. Thursday while enroute to Bay St. Louis on U. S. Highway 90 and was told a man was traveling west on the highway toward Louisiana with a stolen television.

Ladner said he located the car parked in front of the White Kitchen Restaurant in St. Tammany Parish, La., and contacted the St. Tammany Parish Sheriff's department for assistance.

Graham was located inside the restaurant and was taken to the parish jail where he signed a waiver of extradition and was returned to Hancock County jail.

The television, allegedly taken from the Holiday Sands Motel on Highway 90 west of Bay St. Louis, was returned to its owner, Ladner said.

GAINESVILLE, Miss. — The first rocket arrived Sunday, October 17, at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility in Hancock County, completing a 4,000-mile, 17-day voyage from Seal Beach, California.

Designated the S-IIT, it is an all-systems test model of the second stage of the giant Saturn V launch vehicle which will boost American astronauts to the moon.

The stage, 81½ feet long and 33 feet in diameter, entered the navigation lock at the site at 12:45 p.m. aboard the barge "Little Lake" and was moved to the stage transfer dock. Following removal of protective covering and inspection, the S-IIT is scheduled to be barged to the new S-IIT test stand for installation and subsequent testing.

Arrival of the rocket came only 29 months after the first tree was cut and construction began on May 17, 1963, at the NASA proving ground for stages of the free world's most powerful space propulsion vehicles. The monumental task of converting over 13,000 acres of forest and swamp land into a modern, $260 million ground testing laboratory has involved as many as 30 prime contractors and 250 subcontractors.

The S-IIT was developed and built by the Space and Information Systems Division of North American Aviation, Incorporated, at Seal Beach, California. The propulsion system for the S-IIT stage is a cluster of five J-2 engines, developed by NAA's Rocketdyne Division, which generate an aggregate thrust of 1,000,000 pounds, or more than 21 million horsepower.

The converted U. S. Navy Ship "Point Barrow" transported the rocket from Seal Beach via the Panama Canal to a dock at the NASA Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans. It was there placed aboard the "Little Lake" for the 45-mile trip via the Intracoastal Canal and the East Pearl River to MTF.

Mississippi Test Facility is a division of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Alabama. The Marshall Center has the responsibility for developing NASA's large launch vehicles.

Sir:

It has come to my attention that several newcomers to our community have taken exception to certain rules pertaining to borrowing books from the City-County Memorial Library.

The Library Board and the librarians are anxious to please everyone; but there are hard and fast rules in every institution and we must abide by the board's decisions. There have been decisions established through many years of careful thought and consideration and we must and shall maintain them.

All complaints should be made to the Board or to any member thereof, rather than to the librarians. These complaints will be given prompt attention.

Sincerely
Adeline K. Samuel

Dear Mr. Damborino,

So that there may be a complete understanding in the community about the recently organized friends of the Library, I want to state the reasons for establishing the friends.

In our by-laws, which have just been drawn up, we have set out the following: "The purpose of this organization shall be to create public interest in the City-County Memorial Library; to promote increased knowledge and understanding of its services and needs, and to foster public support for the necessary development of this library, that it may adequately serve the needs of the steadily increasing population of the area."

We have organized to serve the Library, but membership in the friends does not give us any special privileges, nor does it give us any voice in running the library. The Library Board has entire charge of all policies.

Anyone interested in helping to promote these objectives is cordially invited to join us.

Yours very truly,
Betty Pilkey
(Mrs. Orrin H. Pilkey)

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Hancock County-District Cooperators can know what trees to plant and expected growth rate or size index thanks to woodland Suitability groupings.

Land capability or soils maps have been used for some time in selecting sites and treatment measures for cropland and pastures. Tung growers would not think of planting a tree without knowing the soil. Now soil scientists and woodland conservationists have correlated this soils information to growing timber. This was done by studying growth patterns of different species for each soil.

A tree farmer can use the soil map as a guide in selecting species to plant. Also site index can be determined. For example a typical coastal flatwoods soil called Goldsboro will be taken. This is listed as Woodland Suitability 19. Preferred species are Slash, Loblolly, and Longleaf Pine. Slash pine on this soil has a site index of 90. This means that age 50 the average height of dominant trees will be 90 feet. Longleaf and Loblolly have a site index of 80. Therefore everything else being equal, Slash Pine would be the species to plant on this soil.

Anyone who is interested in Woodland Suitability may call or go by the Soil Conservation Service office in Bay St. Louis.

The 37-year old festival has for many years honored a court of some 40 high school girls from Mobile to reign over the February-March period of festivities and floral beauty. Enthusiastic response to the recognition of this age group led to development of the Pageant in February 1958. Local and state Junior Chambers of Commerce, organizations and other civic groups, sponsor community and state pageants to select a Junior Miss from each state.

Competition is open to high school senior girls between the ages of 16 through 18.

The Junior Miss from each state when she reaches Mobile, is a guest of the city, the Pageant and the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a special guest in one of Mobile's finest homes.

Judges are outstanding men and women who spend many hours with the contestants, individually in private interviews and as a group during the informal social occasions. In addition, they judge all on-stage competitions.

High school seniors interested in entering the contest on the local level can contact Mrs. E. J. Martin or Mrs. Herbert Stieff.

A contestant committee will hold seminars at Bay High, St. Joseph Academy and Hancock North Central to explain the event to all high school seniors.

The seasons on ducks, rails, galinules, woodcock, Wilson Snipe and other migratory waterfowl will be fixed and announced next week.

Regulations on guns to be used while hunting are as follows:

GUNS: The use of automatic or semi-automatic repeating shotguns capable of holding more than three shells is prohibited in hunting game birds and game animals except rabbits, opossums, raccoons and deer.

What would you do if you were fishing in a big lake and reeled in a "giant" goldfish on the end of your line?

M. B. Broadwell, a Marietta, Georgia transfer executive, had this rather unique experience last week while fishing in Little River Landing Bay, of Lake Allatoona, bagging a 2 and 1/4 pounder, and was almost tempted to throw it back.

"The goldfish put up quite a scrap, and I thought I had really hooked a big one," Broadwell said later. "Imagine my surprise when I started to reel it in and found that I had a whopping big goldfish on the end of my line. I could not believe my eyes."

How a goldfish got into Lake Allatoona is not as big a mystery as how it managed to survive to grow as large as it did before being hooked. Sent in from a Georgia newspaper.

Gold fish make excellent bait for catching black bass and perch but this is the largest one I have heard of. I fished in Lake Allatoona this summer but evidently missed this one.

Mr. J. R. Shadoin.

Those on the committees did a swell job and the tournament was a complete success.

The School Bell Tournament was finally completed after that big blow of Betsy decided to leave us. Her fury was strong, she dampened our course but not the spirit of our gals.

On Ladies Day last week Miss Ann Liveredge won the Trophy Day Tournament at Pass Christian Golf Club held Tuesday with a low net 73 and 20 to win low puts.

Cal Smith, Club pro. will start a series of free golf lessons for the women members of the club. The lessons will start Tuesday Oct. 19 at 9 a.m.

Jim Troste, Jr. with GE out at the test site says he enjoys most all sports and is looking forward to the time when he can get a little time off to do some fishing and hunting. There is a lot of time left Jim to catch up on both these sports and there is a lot of game and fish hereabouts.

James L. Collins who has his home on North Beach likes best, we think, deep sea fishing. Jim is an ardent fisherman and usually gets his share of fish.

Phil Jeffries asst. art director on the production of the movie being made at the Bay "This Property is Condemned," was over from California for a short time. No time to participate in local sports this time, said Phil, but he hopes to get back later and enjoy some of our sports on the Miss. Gulf Coast.

A party composed of Lou Williams, Ponsil Favre, Uncle Bud, Tut Monti, Gae Dunaway and Wallace Bontemps made a fishing trip out to the marshes last week on the Lang's boat "Margaret C" and returned with a swell bunch of fish including about 400 speckles. Tut said the fish were striking like nobody's business.

Two other swell guys we met were George Farris and Robert Whitaker with the South Eastern Construction Co. They said they enjoy fishing, hunting, golf, etc. Will be glad to show you fellows around. There is plenty of all kinds of sports down this way.

According to reports fish are still being caught off the R. R. Bridge and up Jordan River.

Most fish markets have plenty of shrimp, fish, hard crabs and oysters. Some shrimp, the jumbo size, run up to 6 inches in length and are excellent for eating when boiled or fried, if preferred. The crabs right now are fat and full of meat. Oysters are brought in each day and can be bought by the sack or hamper and are fat and salty. No excuse for that fish supper you have been wanting to have.

No that was not me seen in the Echo last week in the picture of the cotton bales on the wagon drawn by mules. We can't help it.

SPECIAL MORTGAGE INSURANCE TERMS AVAILABLE NOW

Special mortgage insurance terms will be available to Hancock County families whose homes were damaged by storm and flooding on September 9, 1965. Director Army Rhoden of the Jackson Insuring Office of the Federal Housing Administration announced, "No down payment is required of families seeking FHA insured loans up to $12,000 to replace homes lost or seriously damaged by the storm and flooding." Mr. Rhoden said. He explained that the FHA special provisions became effective when the President declared Hancock County to be a disaster area on September 25, 1965.

Under FHA's repair and rehabilitation programs, the FHA is authorized to insure improvement loans in amounts up to $10,000 per family unit which may be repaid over a period up to twenty years. Interest may not exceed 6% (plus an FHA mortgage insurance premium of 1/2%) and security in the form of a recorded lien is required, but it is not necessary that this take the form of a first mortgage. Interior liens are acceptable.

Mr. Rhoden said that FIA insurance for property improvement loans is available also under Title I. These loans may be for amounts not in excess of $3,500 and for a maximum term of five years. This a signature loan which may be obtained by making an application through an approved Title I lender. No security is required.

Mortgagors having FHA insured mortgages on their properties and needing relief from regular mortgage payments may apply to their lender for special forbearance relief. This relief can be in the form of omitted or reduced payments for a temporary period or it can be in the form of reduced monthly payments through extending the term of the mortgage.

BAY-HIGH DEFEATS ST. MARTIN, 22-7

In a battle of undefeated Gulf Coast Conference football teams Friday night the Bay High Tigers posted a 22-7 decision over the St. Martin Yellow Jackets by scoring in each of the final three quarters.

The Tigers of Coach Lance Lumpkin picked up a touchdown and a safety in the second period and single touchdowns in the final two quarters and held the Yellow Jackets to a lone fourth quarter tally.

A pass interception by Mike Strong led to Bay High's first touchdown. Strong picked off the Gray aerial on the Bay High 40 and streaked 43 yards before being stopped at the St. Martin 17.

Five plays later fullback Gary Ericke bucked over from a yard out.

Later in the period Mike Letort of St. Martin went back to punt on his own 15 and a bad snap from center sailed over his head into the end zone. Letort went back and fell on the ball, but Bay High was awarded a two-point safety and led 8-0 at the half.

In the third quarter, Fricks got loose on a 48-yard run to the Yellow Jacket one, and on the next play plunged over for his second touchdown. Boogie Dean added the extra point from placement.

A 68-yard touchdown sprint by Strong in the final period and an extra point kick by Dean rounded out Bay High's scoring.

A 35-yard pass from Mike Letort to Edmond Smith set up St. Martin's lone touchdown. The pass play carried to the Bay High one

TRANSFER CONVICTED MEN TO STATE PENITENTIARY

Six men sentenced during the September term of Hancock County circuit court were transferred last week to the Mississippi state penitentiary to begin serving their sentences.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner listed the men picked up at the county jail by a traveling sergeant from Parchman as Johnny Wayne Booth convicted on three charges of burglary and larceny September 20, to serve two years on each count to run concurrently.

Willard Gibson, two years for arson.

Albert Wilson Beam, life for rape; and five years each to run consecutively on one count of fondling and on three charges of sodomy.

Melvin W. Jones, alias John W. Ridgeway, to serve 12 years each on two counts of armed robbery and five years for uttering forged sentences to run concurrently.

Robert Joseph Gorman, six months.

Gorman who was convicted for burglary in March 1964, was given a suspended seven-year penitentiary sentence and placed on probation for five years.

His probation was revoked after testimony revealed that he struck Lloyd Gilbert, a cripple, on September 20, and the force of the blow caused injuries which required medical treatment.
